

COVID-19 vaccine for money and stock

20 lipca 2020

This week in the US will be marked by quarterly reports on the financial condition and affairs of large companies. In particular, they are waiting for reports from pharmaceutical companies developing a vaccine against coronavirus. Here are the main companies Merck, Moderna, Pfizer, AstraZeneca, Johnson & Johnson. The same companies will report to the US Congress.

AstraZeneca's Phase I test report is most awaited. The document is scheduled for release on July 20. According to experts, the vaccine samples from this company may be the most successful in the fight against COVID-19. The reason for this is that this vaccine will cause the appearance in the human body not only of antibodies, which completely disappear after three months, but also of T cells. These cells are the killers of the coronavirus.

Perhaps in the very near future we will witness the emergence of a vaccine against COVID-19. The world and millions of people really need it. US in one of the first stages. It is in this country that the situation with the sick and the dead remains one of the most difficult.

But! There is another reason why making a vaccine is important. Last week Moderna announced a successful vaccine testing phase. This was the reason for the short-term, but rapid growth in the shares of many companies and not only the pharmaceutical industry. Airlines, services and entertainment, and many others grew. Subsequently, there was a decline. But someone managed to make money! And even positive development news will already provide a profit opportunity.

I think there is no point in explaining in more detail why the creation of a vaccine is important. I admit that for serious players, first of all, the creation of a vaccine is important because of the huge income, and only then in the light of drugs for people. After all, Americans are businessmen in the first place. Everything else is second ...

Well, let's not forget about the presidential elections. I am sure that if the vaccine is invented before November, Trump will be re-elected.

Authorship: Vitaliy Timoschuk

Based on: Deseret.com

Source: WolneMedia.net